THIRD SCHEDULE

(Under Regulation 7(2))

THE UNITED REPUBLIC OF TANZANIA

NATIONAL ELECTORAL COMMISSION

(BOUNDARY DELIMITATION)

CONSTITUENCIES DEMARCATION FOR THE PURPOSES OF PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS

PART I

THE CRITERIA FOR CONSTITUENCIES DEMARCATION

1. Subject to the Constitution and the Act the Commission shall be responsible for demarcating the United Republic into constituencies.
2. In demarcating constituencies' boundaries, the Commission shall take into consideration the constitutional criteria and other criteria.

A. CONSTITUTIONAL CRITERIA

In exercising its duty of demarcating constituencies boundaries, the National Electoral Commission shall take into account the various criteria provided in the Constitution of United Republic of Tanzania, 1977 namely; availability of means of communication, population and geographical conditions of the intended areas for demarcation.

B: OTHER CRITERIA TO BE CONSIDERED BY THE COMMISSION INCLUDE

- (i) Population Quota.

This is the total number of population in the country, dividing by the total number of current constituencies. This criterion will take into account the difference of population between the Urban and Rural areas.

THE ELECTIONS (PRESIDENTIAL AND PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS) REGULATIONS, 2010

(ii) The Economic Status of the Constituency.

The economic status of the constituency concerned will be determined by looking on the number or percentage of people living below the poverty line and the revenue collection of a particular constituency.

(iii) The Size of Area of a Constituency.

A constituency which has a large area coverage may be considered to be divided compared to the constituency which has small area coverage.

(iv) Administrative Boundaries.

In demarcating the constituency the Commission shall take into consideration the existing administrative boundaries.

(v) A Constituency not to Cut Across Two Districts or Councils

This criterion shall be taken into account in order to avoid a political representative to represent two different District or Councils at the same time.

(vi) A Ward not to Cut Across Two Constituencies.

This criteria shall be taken into consideration to avoid a councilor not to represent one ward in two different constituencies.

(vii) The Existing Pattern of Human Settlement

This criterion shall consider the arrangement of human settlement in the area concerned.

(viii) Union Environment

The united Republic of Tanzania is the Union of two parts, Tanganyika and Zanzibar thus in demarcating the constituencies the environmental uniqueness of these two parts will be taken into consideration.

(ix) The Capacity of Parliamentary Building to Accommodate Members of Parliament.

Before the demarcation process starts, the Commission shall take into account the capacity of Parliamentary building to accommodate Members of the Parliament.

(x) Special Seats for Women in the National Assembly

In deciding whether to increase the number of constituencies the commission shall take into consideration the number of special seats for women in the National Assembly.

PART II
CLASSIFICATION OF CRITERIA FOR CONSTITUENCIES BOUNDARY

All criteria provided under Part I of this Schedule shall be grouped into three categories as follows-

(A) CATEGORY A

This category shall include criteria which shall be given Preference scales and ranking depending on availability of data, these Criteria are:-

- (i) Population
- (ii) Means of Communication
- (iii) The economic status of a constituency; and
- (iv) Area size.

(B) CATEGORY B

Criteria which shall not be given Preference scales and ranking-

- (i.) Administrative boundaries;
- (ii.) The Constituency not to crossing two District Councils;
- (iii.) A ward not to cut across two constituencies;
- (iv.) Population quota;
- (v.) The union environment;
- (vi.) The Capacity of the Parliamentary building to accommodate Members of Parliament; and
- (vii.) The number of Special Seats for women in the National Assembly.

(C) CATEGORY C

The criteria which the Commission will consult stakeholders or will use its experience are-

1. Geographical conditions; and
2. The existing pattern of human settlement.

PART III
FORMULA FOR DETERMINING PREFERENCE
SCALE AND RANKING

The Commission may make a formula and assign preference scales and ranking to each criteria.

PART IV
PROCEDURES FOR SUBMISSION OF APPLICATIONS/
RECOMMENDATIONS FOR CONSTITUENCIES DEMARCATION

The following Procedures shall be followed in submitting applications/recommendations for Constituencies demarcation;

- (a) Applications/recommendations shall be presented to District/Municipal/City/Town Director of the respective Council and be discussed in the official meetings.
- (b) The District/Municipal/City/Town Director shall present such deliberation to Regional Administrative Secretary (RAS).
- (c) The Regional Administrative Secretary shall present such deliberations to the Regional Consultative Committee for further discussions.
- (d) The Regional Administrative Secretary (RAS) shall present/submit such recommendations to the National Electoral Commission.
- (e) The deadline of submitting application/recommendation to National Electoral Commission will be determined by the Commission.

PART IV
THE ROLE OF THE COMMISSION

The electoral Commission, as the authority empowered by the constitution and the laws of the land to demarcate the boundaries of constituencies and electoral areas has to see to it that;

- (i) it is neutral, objective and non partisan in its approach to the demarcation exercise;
- (ii) the appropriate rules and regulations are applied in its demarcation exercises;
- (iii) the needed resources are procured and applied affectively;
- (iv) the staff who under take the exercise are well trained and adequately motivated in order to prevent the incidence of bias;
- (v) the exercise is well monitored and coordinated;
- (vi) data collected from the field exercise is well processed and stored;
- (vii) the necessary consultation are made with stakeholders including Political Parties and Public at large;
- (viii) the newly drawn electoral boundaries are put into effect.

Made by The National Electoral Commission on 4th day of August, 2010
